

End of Life Resources

Rediscovering the Art of Dying by Sr. Nuala Kenny, MD
	Drawing on the Passion of Christ, Sr. Nuala Kenny reflects on the inevitable questions we all face regarding health, illness, suffering, and dying. Sr. Nuala Kenny provides a profound spiritual and biblical reflection by linking Jesus's own experience of suffering and death with real-life stories about patients. This book is for anyone undergoing, or reflecting on illness, suffering, and dying. It is also for families and friends who accompany the sick, dependent and dying, and for caregivers who accompany them. It is sure to guide attitudes, practical decisions, and actions that are central concerns in serious illness and dying, while clearing up misunderstandings that often accompany periods of stress. Publication date: 2018-01-01 ISBN: 9782896884513

Health Decisions and Care at the End of Life by Catholic Health Alliance of Canada
	Health Decisions and Care at the End of Life is a rich resource authored by the Catholic Health Alliance of Canada. This book explains how someone might deal with end-of-life decisions in accordance with the teachings of the Catholic Church. It addresses the issues that arise during this last stage of caregiving and offers a guide to understanding the ethics needed for rational thinking when individuals are faced with those vital decisions. It touches on important concepts such as palliative care, medical treatments and procedures and how to best assist the dying — for doctors and nurses, for families and friends and for concerned Catholics everywhere. This is an essential resource at a time when the country is in the midst of a debate over euthanasia and physician-assisted suicide. Publication date: 2015-08-01 ISBN: 9782896882120

A Faith-Based Advance Health Care Directive

by Catholic Health Association of Saskatchewan

Is it important to you that other people know and respect your health care wishes?

If yes, you are invited to complete this Advance Health Care Directive. The purpose of this document is to direct others (medical staff, health proxy, family members) about treatment decisions if, and only if, you are no longer able to make decisions about your own care.

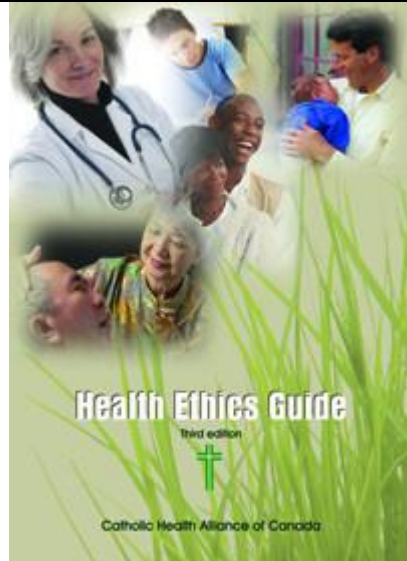

It is also valuable to have discussions with your family members about your health care wishes.

An Advance Health Care Directive informs you, your family, friends, health care professionals, and appointed proxy/proxies of your wishes about your health care.

Health Ethics Guide

by Catholic Health Alliance of Canada

This book is dedicated to health-care professionals such as doctors, nurses and researchers, as well as teachers and professors, who are looking to explore Roman Catholic teachings in the context of medicine and ethics. This newest and most up-to-date revision of the popular ethics guide presents a handy reference of the fundamental values and principles used in ethical decision-making. It presents a moral vision reflecting Roman Catholic teaching on health ethics as it applies to the complex ethical issues of contemporary society. It covers pertinent aspects pertaining to those receiving care from health and social service organizations and the moral obligations of those who govern and administer such organizations. The publication is relevant for caregivers, personnel and all those interested in sound ethical reflection.
