NEW* Bishop LeGatt Video Message – Let us Humbly and Actively Seek to Listen, First

Since June 21st is National Indigenous Peoples' Day, Archbishop Albert reflects on the first and most urging action non-Indigenous people must take: humbly and actively listening to the experiences and wisdom Indigenous peoples share. Truly, we must together take action in the light of the recent shocking finding of those 215 unmarked children's graves on the site of the Residential School that once stood on Tk'emlúps te Secwépemc First Nation, and of similar findings that have preceded it, including the systemic inequity continuing to be faced by Indigenous peoples in Canada. But the first and most pressing action non-Indigenous people must take is real, true, humble listening, in order to then affect to more concrete and lasting change. Especially now as the UN Declaration on Rights of Indigenous Peoples is set to soon become law in Canada, let us continue, together, to build the ways of healing, reconciliation, and peace.

NEW* COVID-19 Faith Stories Webpage – NEW Stories

Our lives were turned upside down in March 2020 by the pandemic. Working from home, homeschooling, participating in virtual meetings, wearing a mask, and social distancing have all become regular practice. Some of us may still be facing uncertainty surrounding our employment and our mental and physical health and are feeling concerned for our loved ones. We could allow ourselves to give in to feelings of hopelessness and the belief that this past year hasn't born any fruit.

But that is definitely not the case. Humans are resilient and we have succeeded in adapting. Since the beginning of the pandemic, we have seen and heard beautiful stories that prove that we really are a people of hope. Stories such as how our youth ministers adapted to COVID-19 by using Internet and new technologies. Or how one hundred youth from seven parishes were confirmed by Bishop Albert LeGatt, in spite of capacity restrictions and provincial orders that prohibited young people from meeting in class to prepare for their confirmation.

To read these faith stories, from people and parishes in our Archdiocese during the COVID-19 pandemic, click here. And visit the page regularly – since hope remains, always, there are more faith stories to come!

Stewardship

NEW* June 27, 2021 – 13th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"...as a matter of equality your abundance at the present time should supply their want, so that their abundance may supply your want, that there may be equality." 2 CORINTHIANS 8:14

One of the tenets of living a stewardship lifestyle is giving without expecting anything in return. It is important that we not only grow, nurture and share our gifts; but that we also teach our children and encourage others to do the same. This is the communal aspect of our Catholic faith. We are the "Body of Christ". We are called to be dependent on each other and not live in isolation.

Bishop LeGatt Video Message – 215

In the wake of the devastating news this week of 215 Indigenous children, buried in unmarked graves at a Residential School on the Tk'emlúps te Secwépemc First Nation, Archbishop Albert takes a moment to reflect. To reflect on the active part the Catholic Church played in the tragedy of colonization here in Canada. To reflect also on what these findings mean for us here in Manitoba.

And also to reflect on our current day reality: racism is certainly not a thing of the past. How are we to move forward, as a society, in the paths of reconciliation? How are we to respond to this shocking discovery, in a way that is more than a simple flash in the pan? Throughout this month of June, National Indigenous History Month, Archbishop Albert will focus his weekly messages on different issues surrounding reconciliation, and on how we, as a Church and broader society, are to move forward. We all have a part to play, and we all must be active players in the process of healing and reconciliation.
